

ROUTA

Intended for traditional sauna bathing in a smaller space, the Routa heater is made of beautiful, ribbed Finnish soapstone from Tulikivi's quarry. The natural soapstone retains the heat generated by the elements and slowly releases it evenly over time, creating a soft and comfortably humid heat. The ergonomic rounded design combines uncompromising Finnish innovation with Tulikivi's technology, making the smooth and stylish design safe to the touch and ideal for family enjoyment.

INNOVATIVE FINNISH DESIGN AND NATURAL STONE

The Routa heater's modular body ensures the cladding can be easily changed, and the stone compartment provides lasting, humid and soft heat. The modern design is especially suitable for small saunas and is designed to withstand the test of time. Connecting Rae to Tulikivi's touch control unit allows you to choose the heating time and temperature. The heater can also be connected to your KNX home automation system.
